

GEN. PERSHING AND STAFF IN ENGLAND

Disembark at a British Port After an Uneventful Voyage

WELCOMED TO LONDON

Atmosphere of Mission is That of Men Embarking On a Grave Enterprise

U. S. SHIPS FORM ESCORT

LONDON, June 8.—A British Trans-Atlantic steamer came slowly into her mooring in a British port this morning with the most interesting complement of passengers she had ever carried during her years of playing between American and English ports.

The passengers consisted of the staff of the first division of the American army that will co-operate with the British and French armies on French soil in the world war with John J. Pershing and his personal staff and the officers of the general staff numbering nearly sixty. There also were on board about 70 private soldiers, a clerical force of the same number, a score of British officers from Canada and a large party of adventurous civilians, including several women.

Crossed Without Mishap
The ship arrived in an English harbor late last night having crossed without encountering any mishap or sighting a hostile craft. The passengers came on deck last morning of the voyage they found torpedo boat destroyers escorting them on either side. When with difficulty they discovered that the marine glasses the colors which the escort flew—that the ships were American—the great enthusiasm aboard increased when a patrol with the same familiar flag at the stern joined the little squadron later.

The coming of the American soldiers had been kept secret outside the official circles and there was no crowd gathered at the pier as would have been the case had the townspeople been aware of the event. There was a large group of British admiralty officers at the landing station with their scarlet cap bands and gold trimmings which denoted that the wearers belonged to the staff, the blue of the navy, lord mayor or with his chain of office and the officials of the port to give welcome to the Americans.

A company of the royal Welsh fusillier in newest khaki, trim and polished to the last button, was drawn up in double line facing the steamer's side with the regimental band ahead. A few paces to the front, in proud state and held in leash by a rigid private, was a mammoth white goat, the most famous regimental mascot of the British army. A group of forty British and American newspapermen and a few other persons who had come to meet passengers completed the assemblage.

All the steamers' decks were crowded with khaki. The waving of handkerchiefs was the only demonstration from the steamer or the pier until the gangplank had been run up. Lieutenant General Pittman Campbell, Admiral Stileman and other officials proceeded aboard the vessel and went thru the formal introductions. Then the British general escorted General Pershing and his personal staff to the dock.

Gen. Pershing Inspects Guard
The band played The Star Spangled Banner and all the military men in sight stood at attention while civilians uncovered. General Pershing inspected the guard of honor and, walking along both lines of soldiers, talked to several of the privates who displayed silt stripes on their sleeves, signifying wounds received in action. Then the band played the British anthem, the English soldiers marched smartly away and the Americans returned to the ship.

Later General Pershing received the newspapermen and in response to demands for a statement said: "The trip has been delightful, particularly the latter stages, when we were escorted thru the danger zone by our own destroyers. Speaking for myself and my staff we are glad to be the standard-bearers of America in this great war for civilization. The opportunity of landing at a British port and the welcome we received are very significant and are deeply appreciated. We expect in the course of a very short time to be playing our part which, I hope, will be a very big part, on the front."

Before leaving the steamer General Pershing and the other American officers bade farewell to the captain, for whose skillful management of his vessel on the trying and dangerous voyage they expressed great admiration.

The party immediately started for London where it arrived this afternoon and was welcomed by the Earl of Derby, the minister of war; Viscount French, commander of the British home forces, and the American officials.

GOETHALS DISMISSES EUSTIS AND CLARK

Brands Statements of Two Engineers As False

Clark Goes Out of Government Service—Status of Eustis, Who is a Special Agent of the Shipping Board, is in Doubt—Gen. Goethals Declines to Make Statement

Washington, June 8.—Charges by F. A. Eustis, assistant general manager of the government's emergency fleet corporation, and F. Huntington Clark, his assistant, that Major General George Goethals is deliberately blocking the wooden shipbuilding program resulted today in the dismissal of both as volunteer employees of the corporation. In a memorandum to Chairman Denman of the shipping board Gen. Goethals announced that he was discharging the engineers, because their usefulness was at an end.

Clark Out of Government Service
Mr. Clark went out of government service today, but the status of Mr. Eustis who in addition to his connection with the fleet corporation is a special agent of the shipping board is in doubt.

Some members of the board strongly favor building all the wooden ships the country can produce and they are loath to force the resignation of Mr. Eustis for championing the cause of wooden construction. Chairman Denman said the board had not decided its attitude concerning retaining Mr. Eustis.

General Goethals declined today to make any statement concerning the controversy Mr. Eustis and Mr. Clark found copies of his memorandum to Mr. Denman on their desks this morning. The memorandum branded as false statements by the two engineers regarding General Goethals' attitude toward wooden shipbuilding and called attention to Mr. Denman's support of lump sum contracts prescribed by the general. The engineers declared shipbuilders will not construct vessels under this form of contract and that General Goethals has turned down contracts calling for a cost plus ten per cent profit basis after he once had approved that plan.

Deny General's Assertions
Both Eustis and Clark issued statements today denying the general's assertions that they were obstructing and replying to charges of disloyalty by saying they felt it was their duty to inform the country that ships can be built if the government wants them.

The engineers criticized General Goethals for declining to let contracts for the Hough model of wooden ship. They produced letters from department of labor officials to show that this type can be built more cheaply and more quickly than the Ferris model adopted by General Goethals.

Mr. Clark's reply to General Goethals' memorandum says: "There are two charges, one of disloyalty, I feel that loyalty is to the country, not to any one man. Any statement I made can be verified and I trust a full investigation can be made."

A fleet corporation has just arranged for lumber on the Pacific coast for building sixty wooden ships. This makes a total of about 200 wooden ships contracted for.

DEBATE PRIORITY SHIPMENT MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The administration's priority shipment bill was debated in the senate today and a final vote probably will be taken tomorrow. Several senators expressed opposition but the leaders are confident passage of the bill would prevent willful obstruction of interstate commerce and would empower the president to direct that shipments of food stuffs and other necessities have preference in transportation.

An amendment by Senator Hollis under which the provision of the bill could not be construed to curb the right to strike was accepted. Senator Hollis said the railroad brotherhoods believed the bill as drawn might prevent a peace strike. He also expressed doubt whether the priority shipment section was constitutional but said the bill was necessary as a war measure.

"We must give the president this power or equivalent power," said Senator Cummins, "or take possession of the railroads if this war is to be carried on successfully."

INSIST ON CONFERENCE OF ALLIED SOCIALISTS

LONDON, June 8.—The Chronicle prints a telegram from the Belgian minister of munitions and Socialist leader, Emile Vandervelde, who is now in Petrograd, stating that the western Socialists insist on a conference of Socialists of the Allied nations in London in July. This conference is to precede that proposed in Stockholm by the Russian council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates and to which it has invited Socialists of all nations, both belligerent and neutral. The London conference will discuss the Russian invitation and frame a reply thereto.

FIND EDGAR CAYLESS DEAD.

Denver, June 8.—Edgar Cayless, former mayor of Honolulu, political adviser of ex-Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, and well known in former years as a criminal lawyer, was found dead in bed today in his apartments. He was 70 years old. A wife and son are in Los Angeles.

PROMOTES THREE GENERALS

Washington, June 8.—President Wilson today nominated three brigadier generals to be major generals: John F. Morrison, William L. Sibert and Charles G. Morton.

SENTENCE NEGRO TO TERM AT CHESTER

LINCOLN, Ill., June 8.—J. C. Jackson, known as "Elder" Jackson, a Danville negro who is reputed to have lured thousands of residents of Central Illinois in collections for an orphanage near Danville, was sentenced to Chester penitentiary today for an indeterminate term of from one to ten years. He was convicted of operating a confidence game.

The "elder" is said to have collected thousands of dollars for his "Israel of God" the "white horse army" is what he termed his orphanage. The orphanage was a shack near the city of Danville in which he kept four or five children. These he is said to have represented as a "host of orphans of every creed and color."

STATE'S REGISTRATION WILL EXCEED ESTIMATE

Adjutant General Dickson Estimates Total at 686,252

Figures Include Estimates of 6,304 From Richmond and Franklin Counties and 1,000 From Three Missing Chicago Precincts

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—Registration for the selective draft in Illinois will exceed the census bureau estimate of the state's quota by approximately 10,000 if complete official returns bear out estimates of Adjutant General Dickson tonight.

The total registration is placed at 686,252. This includes an estimated total of 6,304 from Richmond and Franklin counties and of 1,000 from three missing Chicago precincts and estimated totals of the two missing counties is distributed as follows: Whites ..... 559,304 Negroes ..... 22,535 Aliens ..... 39,729 Alien enemies ..... 6,370

Without the three missing precincts, Chicago alone registered a total of 322,330 of whom 153,693 claimed exemption. The percentage of those claiming exemption in all returns remained at approximately 55.

Rockford registered 6,814 of whom 3,959 claimed exemption and Springfield's total was 4,798 with 2,799 in the possible exemption column. The seven counties heard from today furnished a total of 25,059 registrations. They were Boone, Gallatin, Hardin, Ironquols, Jasper, Madison and Williamson.

TEUTONS CONFER ON GRAIN SITUATION

COPENHAGEN, Via London, June 8.—The rapid dwindling of German grain stocks under the drain imposed by the supplementary bread allowances, to compensate for missing potatoes, was the cause of the recent hastily summoned conference of representatives of the Central Powers in Berlin. Officials of the German food department supported by energetic representations from the military and diplomatic authorities, won the grant of an additional proportion for Germany of the grain stocks captured in Roumania.

This agreement is at the cost of the Austro-Hungarian, Bulgarian and Turkish allotments and according to a Berlin announcement, will suffice to carry the German population thru until the harvest. The transportation difficulties of course remain to be solved.

The German authorities are conducting a vigorous publicity campaign to convince the people that all is well with the coming harvest and that present food difficulties will disappear as soon as the new crop is available.

SINK BRITISH STEAMER: ONE AMERICAN MISSING

LONDON, June 8.—The British Steamer Southland from Liverpool for Philadelphia in ballast was torpedoed without warning on June 4. She had six Americans aboard, of whom one, Edward Rigney of New York, is missing. The gun crew on the Southland fired ten shots at the submarine after the first torpedo was fired. A second torpedo was fired by the submarine and it caused an explosion in the magazine which killed eight men. Two boats containing forty men are still missing. The rest of the crew of 159 has been landed. As showing the excellent information which the submarines receive the U-boat commander, when informed of the name of the ship showed surprise and said: "Well, you are a week ahead of your time."

The submarine flew no flag. The Americans survivors are Albert Lyons, Bridgewater, Mass.; A. McCoy, Los Angeles; James Goughan, Salamanca, N. Y.; John McNeil, Providence, R. I.; Jacob Houser, Middletown, Pa.

PERMIT BARBERING ON THE SABBATH.

Davenport, Ia., June 8.—Barbering on the Sabbath is not a violation of the Iowa blue laws, a supreme court decision today to the contrary notwithstanding, decided a jury in Justice's court after deliberating 20 minutes over the evidence presented in the case against Ed. Rodler, proprietor of the Hotel Blackhawk barber shop. This is the first case tried by the county attorney.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS UNVEIL STATUE

Washington, June 8.—Confederate veterans went to Gettysburg today to unveil a memorial statue of General Robert E. Lee and to visit the old bloody battlefield of a half century ago. This was the last feature of the reunion here this week and many veterans and visitors left today for their homes.

WHEAT CROP WILL FALL BELOW NORMAL

Will Not Meet War Needs Unless Country Practices Rigid Economy

TOTALS 656,000,00 BU.

Demands from Abroad and Virtually No Reserve Store Will Cut Supply Down

WINTER WHEAT SHORT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—America's 1917 wheat crop, as forecast today by the department of agriculture will fall far below normal despite a prospect for a more than ordinary yield of spring wheat.

A total yield estimated at 656,000,000 bushels will give the country 16,000,000 more bushels than last year's crop, but with the heavy demands from abroad and virtually no reserve store it will not meet war needs unless the country practices the most rigid economy.

Winter Wheat Crop Short

The department forecasts a spring crop of 283,000,000 bushels, a big yield, but estimates of winter wheat production give a crop of only 373,000,000 bushels, seven million more than was forecast from the May 1 condition, but still far from the normal yield.

Herbert C. Hoover, who will be food administrator under the food control bill pending in congress estimates the allies needs this year alone billion bushels of grain most of it to come from the United States and Canada. The short wheat crop means this country will have to cut its wheat consumption if it exports any wheat since the United States itself normally uses more than 600,000,000 bushels. At the beginning of 1916 there were 164,000,000 bushels on hand carried over from the previous years record crop.

Some belief is seen in the better showing this year in the forecasts of rye which will be a record crop, oats and barley. A large corn crop also undoubtedly will be grown.

Abandon third of acreage.
Winter wheat last fall was planted on one of the largest acreages ever recorded but severe winter conditions caused almost one third of the area to be abandoned. The crop came thru the winter in poor condition and the April forecast was only 430,000,000 bushels. May's forecast showed a reduction of 64,000,000 bushels. Today's forecast based on June 1 conditions showed improvement of 7,000,000 bushels over May with a total of 373,000,000 bushels. The final outcome may be above or below that figure. Spring wheat, the June report shows was planted on an area almost as large as that of 1915 when a record crop of 352,000,000 bushels was grown.

The condition of the crop on June 1 was almost two points below the ten year average, indicating a production of only 283,000,000 bushels. With favorable growing conditions the production may reach greater proportions by harvest time.

The late spring wheat prevented farmers from putting as much land in spring wheat as had been expected and the cold weather has prevented germination to a certain extent. Indications are for a crop of oats third in size in the country's history and for a crop of rye exceeding the record of 4,000,000 bushels. Barley also will be heavy crop probably third in size in history.

Forecasts of Production

Forecasts of production of the country's principal crops, as estimated today by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture from reports of condition on June 1 follows:

(Figures in millions of bushels, 1 e., 000,000's omitted.)	1916	1911-15
Crop	Forecast	Crop Ave.
Winter wheat	373	482
Spring wheat	283	158
All wheat	656	640
Oats	1381	1252
Barley	214	18
Rye	37.9	47.4
Ray (tons)	102	119
Apples	298	292
Peaches	45.4	36.9

Condition By States.

Condition of winter wheat by important states follows:	Percentage

ATTORNEY GENERAL TO PROSECUTE RAILROADS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 8.—After a conference at noon today at which were present Governor Lowden, Attorney General Brundage and Thomas C. Dempsey, chairman of the state public utilities commission, it was announced by Attorney General Brundage that the state will remain firm in its determination to prosecute railroads which raise passenger rates between points in Illinois, in violation of the Illinois two cent law.

This action was decided on in face of the fact that Federal Judge Dyer in St. Louis has stated that Illinois officials who interfere with the attempt of St. Louis-Chicago railroads to put into effect a 2.4 passenger fare rate, for the purpose of removing alleged discrimination against St. Louis, must answer to him.

EARTHQUAKE DESTROYS CITY OF SAN SALVADOR

President of Nicaragua Gives Out Report of Catastrophe

Santa Tecla and Neighboring Towns and Villages Also are Destroyed—Casualties Small—Quake Continues all Night Accompanied by Heavy Rain.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, June 8.—San Salvador, Santa Tecla and neighboring towns and villages were destroyed in an earthquake which commenced at seven o'clock last night and continued thruout the night, according to advices received here from the president of Nicaragua tonight.

The president's message says: "Telegraphic communication just re-established with San Salvador, confirms that earthquakes commenced at 7 o'clock P. M., yesterday (Thursday) and continued all night, accompanied by a heavy rain.

"San Salvador, Santa Tecla and neighboring towns and villages were destroyed.

"The casualties were small. There were some fires.

"The president of Nicaragua has telegraphed the president of Salvador offering aid. He has ordered the organization of relief committees to help to the suffering and the homeless."

Report Hundreds Dead

Panama, June 8.—Reports from Managua and San Juan Del Sur say that hundreds of lives were lost in San Salvador. Earthquakes continued all thru the night and volcanoes are in eruption. Communication between Panama and San Salvador has been broken.

Reports Fire Under Control

Washington, June 8.—Dispatches filed by American Minister Long at San Salvador, at 9 o'clock last night said a volcano was erupting and part of the city had been burned, but fire was under control after great damage had been done.

Cablegram Says "All Well"

New York, June 8.—A cable message dated San Salvador and reading: "All well," was received tonight by Bloom Brothers, official agents in the United States for the Republic of San Salvador from David Bloom & Co. of the Banco Occidental at San Salvador.

TO BEGIN PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS MONDAY

PORT SHERIDAN, Ill., June 8.

Physical examination of the 5,000 men in the reserve officers' training camp here will be begun today. It was announced today. The work is planned to examine 1,000 or more men a day. The work is to be speeded up, as the war department, it is believed, wants to carry out at once its plan for redistributing the men into infantry, cavalry, engineering or aptitude for the various branches. So far all the men have been given infantry training.

DISCUSS SUGAR RATES AND PUBLISHERS TAXES

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Discussion of rates on sugar and the publishers' taxes to go into the war tax bill occupied the senate finance committee today without a decision on either. A tax upon publishers' profits as a substitute for a postage increase or an advertising levy was a new proposal under consideration.

Senator Hardwick again urged his plan of taxing advertising portion of publications. With further discussion in prospect it is believed the bill cannot be completed before the middle of next week or presented to the senate before the end of the week.

PROMISE SPEEDY SETTLEMENT

Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—J. D. Hazen, minister of fisheries, announced in parliament tonight that negotiations were pending with Washington which promised a speedy settlement of all outstanding differences over fisheries between the United States and Canada. Equal rights in the use of ports and fishing grounds will be the basis of settlement it is understood.

PROCEEDS GO TO RED CROSS

Tuxedo Park, N. Y., June 8.—Because of the prominence of many of the exhibitors and the large field of show and race horses entered, more than usual interest has been aroused in the annual exhibition of the Tuxedo Horse Show Association which opened at the speeding track here today. The event has attracted a large number of well known people. The proceeds of the show will be devoted to the Tuxedo Red Cross Auxiliary.

CORRESPONDENT VISITS PRISON AT KRONSTADT

Associated Press Man Interviews Russ Officers

Talks With Army and Navy Officers Suspected of Actively Sympathizing with the Autocracy—Halls are Overcrowded—Officers Dirty and Unshaven.

Kronstadt, June 8, via London.—The last act of the executive body of the Kronstadt Seecessionists before surrendering to the Petrograd government was to permit The Associated Press correspondent to inspect the prison in which are confined the army and navy officers suspected of actively sympathizing with the autocracy. With the horrors of these prisons, partly real and partly imaginary, Russia has been ringing for the last ten days. Heretofore no independent inspection has been allowed. In the naval preliminary prison the officers confined are in four separate halls mixed with private soldiers and in the third of these halls with men convicted of murder and theft. The correspondent interviewed Admiral Kurosh, former commander at Kronstadt, Admiral Sapozhnikov, commander of the instruction corps and General Ierogoff. The officers' uniforms had been stripped of the insignia of their rank. In appearance they were dirty and unshaven.

Halls are Overcrowded.

The halls are overcrowded. There is an average of only one foot of space between the beds. There are no chairs or other furniture except small tables. The officers sit and eat on the bed. The common sailors are supplied with no bedding whatever and the officers sleep without undressing on the exposed cross work of iron slats. Two officers sleep on one bare table. In some cases there are thin layers of dirty straw on the bed. The fifth section of this jail consists entirely of solitary confinement cells six feet square and nine feet high. The cells are unventilated, windowless and dimly lighted thru a barred aperture in the door. In one of the cells is Admiral Kurosh, the hero of three wars. He is in bad health. In another is Captain of Fleet Fand Almqvist, who was lately released as innocent by the revisionist executive's own inquiry commission, but who was dragged back by a mob to the jail.

The halls of the prison are overrun with rats which annoy the captives at night. The food of a private soldier is each captive's portion. Admiral Kurosh complained bitterly that his health had been ruined by the diet.

Stories of Torture Untrue

Recently the Kronstadt council by a majority vote refused to allow relatives of the prisoners to bring them food on the ground that "humanity" was superfluous. The officers agreed however, that stories of tortures and blows in the prison are untrue.

The officers complained bitterly that although they have been imprisoned for nearly three months, no accusations whatever had been preferred against them and they were entirely ignorant of the cause of their imprisonment.

SINK BRITISH SHIP; TWO AMERICANS KILLED

LONDON, June 8.—Two Americans were killed when the British Steamer Manchester, loaded with cotton, was torpedoed June 4. The Americans were Fireman Ashley and Daniels. The other members of the crew including several Americans were landed.

SIX MASKED MEN ATTACK GUARDSMEN

FORT DODGE, Ia., June 8.—Six masked men last night attacked the soldiers of the Iowa National Guard who were guarding a bridge here it became known here today. The soldiers returned the fire and a battle which lasted for more than twenty minutes ensued. It was said one of the attackers was shot. None of the soldiers were injured. Secret service men arrived here today and a searching investigation is under way.

DRAFT FIGURES BELOW ESTIMATE

17 States Register Something Over 85 Per Cent of Census Estimate

WOULD REDUCE TOTAL

Officials Do Not Believe Average of 15% Under Estimate Will Be Maintained

HOPE FOR TEN MILLION

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Seventeen states and the District of Columbia had their returns from Tuesday's war registration complete tonight when the provost marshal general's office closed, showing a combined registration of 2,349,256 compared with their census eligible estimate of 2,702,727.

At this rate something over 85 per cent of the census estimate has been registered and if the other thirty one states should show the same ratio of decrease the total registration would be around nine million, or 1,264,000 below the census figures.

Hope for Over Nine Million

Officials do not believe, however, that the average of fifteen per cent under the estimates will be maintained and hope to see the total well over nine million. Confidence is felt that the record will show comparatively few slackers to be accounted for.

The total indicated possible exemptions reported by the states register is 1,362,467. Of the total registered 1,652,565 are white, 449,779 are negroes; 198,145 (exclusive of West Virginia) are aliens and 36,965 (exclusive of West Virginia) alien enemies.

Tabulations will be resumed tomorrow. The states in tonight's figures are: Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Maryland Governor's Report

Annapolis, Md., June 8.—The governor of Maryland reports to Washington today that the state's total registration is 120,458 divided as follows: White, 89,504; negro, 22,655; alien, 7,337; alien enemies, 912; the indicated possible exemptions are, 66,580; state's estimated eligibles, 126,290.

West Virginia's Figures

Charleston, W. Va., June 8.—West Virginia registered 127,410 men for the selective draft, according to a telegram from Governor John J. Cornwell. The total includes:

JURY IN NELSON CASE COULD NOT AGREE

Continuances Granted in Two Cases—Court Adjourned Until Monday.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case of Arthur Nelson, charged with criminal assault, failed to agree. The case was given to the jury about 3:15 Thursday afternoon and the jurors stayed out all night and reported to the court at 9 o'clock Friday morning that they were unable to agree. Judge Jones then discharged the jury as it was very evident that they could reach no decision. It was understood that the jury was hopelessly divided, six for conviction and six for acquittal.

A continuance was granted in the case of William Swan charged with assault, and the same order was made with reference to Ross Abel, charged with burglary and larceny. Judge Jones adjourned court until Monday.

STAMPS FOR CHECKS PROPOSED.

If a provision is written into the revenue bill by the senate requiring 2c stamps on bank checks for more than $5, the banks of the country will have far less bookkeeping to do. The average bank depositor has grown into the check habit as a matter of convenience and because in this way he has a system of bookkeeping from which he can always straighten his records. But a stamp requirement for every check would speedily mean a return to the "specie and greenback" payment plan.

H. F. DORWIN DIES

Acquaintances here will hear with regret of the passing of Harry F. Dorwin, which occurred suddenly Friday morning in Springfield. Mr. Dorwin was one of the publishers and proprietors of the Illinois State Journal. His connection with that paper began about the same time that Clarence Paul began the editorial work. Mr. Paul preceded Mr. Dorwin in death several years ago. Mr. Paul took some part in political affairs while Mr. Dorwin devoted himself almost exclusively to the business department of the State Journal and was largely instrumental in its growth and development during the years. Quiet in his manner and always unassuming, Mr. Dorwin was nevertheless forceful and efficient, and his going is a loss to the newspaper men of the state and to citizens generally.

UNITED CHURCH EFFORT

Today in American cities where there are many Norwegian citizens church bells will ring out to celebrate the union of three branches of the Norwegian churches in America. There will be 3,000 church bells in this somewhat unique demonstration. And why should they not celebrate so sensible a movement as this union? The times are such that men and women should be more than ever impressed with the thought of how much church and religious effort is wasted because of the too great number of denominations and sects. Yes, the times are at hand when minor differences should be forgotten as people turn their attention to the solution of greater and more serious problems. There is plenty of work to do without "lost motion," and world events are doing much to wipe out denominational feeling.

HANDS OFF THE WIRES.

In these days when windstorms are so frequent the warning to "keep hands off hanging wires" is very timely. Especially in a city where trees are so numerous it is inevitable that wires are occasionally torn from their "moorings" even under ordinary conditions and especially during times of storm. If you see a hanging wire, even if you are very confident that it is only a telephone or telegraph wire and is "dead," do not touch it yourself and warn others to keep away. Then notify the proper authorities and let them take care of this hanging wire. It may look harmless but there is a possibility of death lurking there, for telegraph and telephone wires frequently are crossed with other wires carrying high voltage. At any rate, there is no use taking chances. Let men trained and experienced in the handling of wires do all the repair work.

EXEMPTION FIGURES MISLEADING

Many people have been both astounded and depressed as they have considered the number of men who claimed exemption in the registration last Tuesday. When more careful consideration is given to this matter it appears that the figures are misleading. Many young men filled out the blank with reference to exemptions, not with a desire to claim exemption but with the understanding that the government wished to know all the facts about exemption relative to physical conditions. Articles given to the press by the government have emphasized these points. It was true that the government did want these very facts in order that when the time of selection comes that the soldiers may be chosen from the group of those physically most fit, whose going to the front will not interfere with governmental machinery or war preparations—soldiers who will not leave dependent relatives for the care of the public or the government during the period of the war. Until after exemption boards have acted on lists and government regulations and rules are made known, it is entirely too early to be talking about the number of young men who are seeking to evade war service or have a shown a spirit of cowardice.

WAR WORK FOR PHYSICIANS AND SOLDIERS.

While a large percentage of the citizens of this country, if one may judge from local feeling, have an idea that the war with Germany will be over within a few months, there is a growing conception of the seriousness of conditions. The belief increases among those who study the situation that the U. S. has entered a war which will be measured by years rather than by months. It is this growing sentiment that has impressed a large number of Jacksonville physicians with the belief that another year will see the larger number of them in the service of the army. England and France have both been taking physicians and surgeons from this country at the rate of 250 a month and it is easy to figure that if in another year the U. S. has a million and more men under arms, that the services of a very large number of medical men will be needed.

Thousands have volunteered for service, but measured by the demand of an army of a million men, not nearly enough are in sight. It may be necessary for the government to draft surgeons and doctors just as it is relying upon this system for securing the necessary number of soldiers.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATIONS IN THE PAST AND NOW

As will be noticed on another page preparations are under way by Jacksonville business men for an observance of the Fourth of July. Certainly this year of all others in our history, July 4th should have a serious meaning. The proposal for a celebration is therefore timely and well taken, but there should be a general expression as to just the kind of celebration which should be had. In a number of cities the question has already been discussed, and decisions reached that fireworks, like all explosives, are extremely expensive this year and should be tabooed.

Another argument used against fireworks or forms of celebrations that require much money expenditure is that a greater patriotism would be shown by conserving these funds for demands which may be made later as the war progresses. The feeling is general that Fourth of July this year should be just as in former years only "more so." At any rate the day should be observed and citizens should enter heartily into the general plan after it has been fully agreed upon.

Those citizens who favor "Business just as usual" will no doubt take the other view and declare that Fourth of July this year should be just as in former years only "more so." At any rate the day should be observed and citizens should enter heartily into the general plan after it has been fully agreed upon.

Still another argument for the customary form of celebration can be found in the recent statement by a Canadian sportsman who was talking about the prospects for baseball in the U. S. "Go ahead with your sports," he said, "for when the first casualty list comes from the front that will be the beginning of the end of baseball during the war period. People cannot enter heartily into sports of that class when once the grimness of the war is realized, and they stand face to face with the knowledge that each day the dreaded news may be flashed to them from European battlefields. The first casualty list will tell you what I mean."

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

The Vandal
Where'er the German soldier stalks, destruction, like his shadow, stalks. He comes upon some old-world town, on which the ages have looked down, a town perhaps, whose crumbling walls were built by the ancient Gauls, as a protection for their home against the conqueror from Rome. All legended and gray with age—the German wrecks it in his rage, and strews the storied buildings round in blackened ruins, on the ground. The grand cathedral, which uprears, as it has done, a thousand years, its noble steeple to the sky, must in a heap of wreckage lie. Where'er the German soldier wends, all decent human feeling ends; should he advance, or yet retire, he marks his path with death and fire. The Kaiser throws his men away, "Let them be slain, if they shall slay; advance, however great the loss, and draw on me for one more cross." This is the spirit of Red Bill: "What is the difference who we kill, or what we ruin and deface, tho we may shock the human race, so we have gained another trench, or foiled the British or the French?" This is the savage foe we'll meet—and batter till he owns defeat.

VISITED CYCLONE COUNTRY

John A. Rawlings, who has for some time been located at Bartlesville, Okla., has written a Jacksonville friend of his recent trip to Coffeyville and Caney, Kansas, cities which are located about 100 miles from his home. Mr. Rawlings and his family drove there to see the results of the cyclone.

At Coffeyville the houses on both sides of one street for a distance of six or seven blocks were utterly demolished. Five people lost their lives and many were injured.

Mr. Rawlings mentioned that wheat in his section of Oklahoma and in southeastern Kansas looks fine and he has never seen better oats in Illinois than are now growing in the sections mentioned.

E. D. Phillips, who has for some weeks been in the employ of Graubner & Lair, will leave tomorrow for St. Louis, where he has taken a position as traveling salesman for the Wrought Iron Range Co. Mr. Phillips has many friends during his stay in the city who will wish him well.

AMERICAN COLLEGE CLUB OF CHINA HONORED

Reception and Tea Given by President Li Yuan-hung Attended By More than 400 Chinese and Americans—Typical of Democratic Change Which Has Swept Over China.

Peking, June.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—President Li Yuan-hung honored the American College Club of North China with a reception and tea at the Presidential palace the day after the semi-annual dinner of the club. More than 400 college men and women, Chinese and American alike, who attended American institutions, were presented by Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, the American minister, and received a cordial welcome from President Li Yuan-hung, who shook hands with every member of the party.

The reception was typical of the democratic change which has swept over China. It is unusual for high officials to receive women, and especially Chinese women, but President Li Yuan-hung insisted upon grasping the hand of every one of his guests.

Pleased at Meeting Students.

The Chinese president delivered a brief address of welcome, in which he expressed great pleasure in meeting the American returned students. Addressing the Chinese returned students particularly, the president said:

"China is at the beginning of a period of reconstruction. Our education and our industries and our social and public works must be pushed forward with the greatest energy. You Chinese young men who have had the great privilege of a western education must shoulder a correspondingly great responsibility."

"China is taking America as her model for the conduct of her government. As you must have learned the spirit of American democracy during your sojourn in that country, I expect you to help our fellow-countrymen in the development of that spirit."

Will Strengthen Friendship.

"I am forced to the happy conclusion that gatherings of this kind cannot but result in the further strengthening of the already strong friendship between the United States and China, and the growth of mutual co-operation between the two peoples. China and America are the two greatest republics on earth. America being the eldest and China being the youngest, China naturally looks up to America, as younger sister would to the elder for guidance and inspiration. There is a great deal in common between them, both in their national aims and aspirations. America and China have always stood for peace, justice and for fair play. With the two great republics working hand in hand, not only is the peace of the Pacific secure, but also will the world be safe for democracy."

The American minister thanked the president for the courtesy he had paid the American College Club and said:

A Desire for Co-operation.

"My nation is particularly proud of the fact that numerous gifted Chinese have sought in our country the interpretation of scientific thought which would give them a thorough understanding of the motive forces of western civilization. Those in our two nations who thus come into intimate contact with one another have come to consider it the most natural thing that there should be a desire for co-operation between China and the United States—a desire not founded on the mere impulse of a moment but on deep underlying causes."

The friendly sentiments of both President Li Yuan-hung and Dr. Reinsch were enthusiastically applauded by the American students.

Wages Campaign Against Speeders.

Mexico City, June.—An energetic campaign is being waged by Colonel Gonzalo de la Mata, chief of police of Mexico City against reckless and incompetent chauffeurs. Heretofore there have been few speed and traffic regulations in Mexico City and those have been marked more by violation than by observance. Chauffeurs hereafter will be compelled to pass examinations for efficiency and speed laws will be strictly enforced. Colonel de la Mata is organizing a squad of motorcycle police to deal with automobile traffic and heavy fines are being imposed on speeders.

Chinese Aviator Killed.

Peking, June.—Pei Yung-kuan, a Chinese aviator under instruction at the Army Aviation School at Nan-yuan near Peking, was killed recently as a result of an accident to his biplane, which brought it to the ground from a height of 200 yards. Mr. Pei was crushed beneath the machine and died instantly. This is the first fatal accident which the Chinese aviation corps has suffered. The school has ten machines, and one hundred students living in practice.

WABASH PASSENGER ENGINE TURNS TURTLE

Accident Happened Near Valley City Friday Morning—Spreading of Rails—The Probable Cause—Engine Rods Scalded.

The engine of East bound Wabash passenger train No. 4 due here at 8:30 a. m. jumped the track one and one half miles west of Valley City Friday morning. The engine ran across a trestle and finally turned over and rolled down an embankment. Engineer Rodems fell with the engine and was badly scalded about the legs, tho his condition is not considered serious.

It is presumed that the wreck was caused by spreading of the rails, on account of the recent storm. The baggage and mail car also left the rails but did not turn over. The passenger coaches remained on the track and none of the passengers were injured tho several were shaken up considerably.

The wrecker was sent to the scene from Springfield and the wreckage cleared away. Traffic was delayed several hours and the West Bound Wabash flyer Thursday afternoon detained by way of Camp Point.

The engine was badly damaged and the right of way also was torn up for a considerable distance. A train was made up at Bluffs and taken to Valley City and a transfer of passengers made. The train reached Jacksonville at 12:30 o'clock.

AT NICHOLS PARK

Four little swans have been added to the menagerie at Nichols park and the pretty little creatures sail around after their mother in sedate and solemn manner. Since the lake emptied last winter and the fish and moss were destroyed swans have a harder time to live and the custodian feeds them which was not necessary before the lake was dry.

The new lawn mower is doing good work and the park is well kept and all looks like a well preserved dooryard. The entire park is very beautiful and the cause of many compliments from both residents and strangers. The flowers are well started and the foliage is fine.

The large pavilion is being used more than ever and since the waiting rooms have been fixed up it is quite popular with many. From various points there are superb views, north of the gun club grounds; the children's playground; the large culvert, the pavilion and several other places afford opportunities for seeing fine landscapes. The lawn tennis courts are becoming popular and when the weather permits many golfers are there every day.

It was well attended by soldiers from all over the state, Chicago being especially well represented. Thursday evening the citizens of Bloomington turned out with something like 400 automobiles, but one citizen to a car, and took the old boys and ladies of the relief corps a general ride of two hours all about the place. Every courtesy was shown them while in the capital of McLean county and they will long remember the meeting.

THE VALUE OF A GOOD NAME

A traveling man was exhibiting in a clothing store in the city yesterday a line of overalls dyed with colors not made in Germany. He said the man who did the coloring began, when he first knew him, in a small, insignificant way, and last year, with his son, made a million dollars in seven months.

The man has managed to secure a dyeing material which is reliable and goods from the loom are sent him to be colored and when his brand is on them merchants ask no more questions knowing the fabric has fast colors. He has a way of leaving his trade mark on the goods all right so that is known and he has wonderful art of making stripes.

He will color a pair of overalls a solid blue and then by some secret chemical process will remove the coloring in crooked stripes and all sorts of figures and in such a way as to leave the place white and un-injured. This is done by some other houses but the process being done with acids hurts the goods but with this brand the fabric is all right.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

With the Messines - Wytchotee ridge in their possession the British on Friday organized the new ground and prepared for probable further action while throwing back German counter-attacks.

Surprised by the terrific onslaught of Sir Douglas Haig's men Thursday the Germans, who lost more than 6,400 prisoners and many more killed or wounded as a result of the mine explosions and the British artillery fire made no immediate counter-attack. Waiting until Friday Crown Prince Rupprecht then threw his men forward against the new British position northwest of Oosttaverne and east of Messines. Every effort was repulsed by the British.

All the prisoners taken by the British have not yet been counted but included in their number are 132 officers. The British also have collected more than 20 guns. The success of the British attack is admitted by Berlin.

In Belgium north of Ypres the Belgians and Germans have been engaged in violent artillery bombardments. Along the Aisne front in the region of the Chemin des Dames the German crown prince has ceased his attack but the French and German artilleries continue their bombardments.

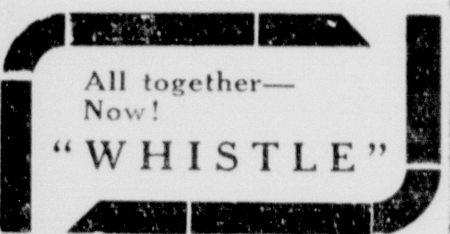

There has been no marked activity in the other theaters of the war.

SIR WILFRID REFUSES TO JOIN GOVERNMENT

Opposes Putting Thru a Compulsory Military Service Bill for Canada.

Ottawa, June 8.—Premier Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were working hard tonight to adjust themselves and their followers to the situation resulting from the premier's announcement of conscription, his offer to Sir Wilfrid to join in forming a coalition cabinet and the opposition leader's refusal to join the government in putting thru a compulsory military service bill. Liberal members will vote upon the compulsory measure as individuals and not as an organization.

It had been predicted that there would be a cleavage between those for and against conscription which would permanently divide the opposition into two hostile camps which might result in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's resigning the opposition leadership.

This did not happen, however. It is stated that the speeches were moderate and the views were strongly expressed. Those who held against conscription affirmed that there was no mandate from the Canadian people to the government to apply conscription.

Those who held the enactment of conscription necessary state they would vote for it, but held that they should have the same liberty of action as had been exercised by Lloyd George and Campbell-Bannerman, who broke with the majority of their party in organizing the Boer war and who at later dates became liberal prime ministers of England. Thus it was decided that liberals should vote as individuals and not as a party when the conscription division was called.

WITNESS TORPEDOING OF AMERICAN STEAMER

PARIS, June 8.—The torpedoing of a big American steamer and the shelling and sinking by the submarine of the small boats in which the steamer's crew were escaping is reported by the survivors of the French press. The French ship Jeanne Cordouier, The French ship was torpedoed in the English channel on May 31 and the crew reached Havre in open boats. They declare they witnessed the destruction of the American ship after their own vessel had been sunk.

TO SELECT MEN FOR AIRPLANE SERVICE

Fort Sheridan, Ill., June 8.—Instead of drilling recruits in the new United States army or leading a company against the enemy trenches hundreds of the young men now training at the officers' camp here may mount thousands of feet in the air and direct machine guns at hostile airplanes.

This departure from the expected became more than a probability with the receipt of a war department announcement calling for selections from the officers' training camp for airplane service.

HAND HAITIEN CHARGE HIS PASSPORTS

Amsterdam, June 8.—The Haitian charge d'affaires at Berlin has been handed his passports according to a despatch from the German capital. The Haitian diplomat had previously handed to Foreign Secretary Zimmermann a note protesting against unrestricted submarine warfare and demanding compensation for losses caused to Haitian commerce and life. The note also asked for guarantees for the future.

and various British organizations have prepared an extensive program of entertainment for the American party but it is doubtful if much of it will be carried out as General Pershing, before being informed of the plans, expressed a desire that there be a minimum of anything in the nature of a social reception.

The entire contingent devoted itself to the hardest kind of work of an organizing nature throughout the entire journey and the whole atmosphere of the mission is that of men embarking on a grave enterprise.

Among those taking active part on the various committees of entertainment for the American contingent are Mrs. John Astor, Mrs. Whitlaw Reid, Mrs. W. Wilton Phipps and Mrs. R. Craig Morrow and Washington Wood, Almerie Padgett and L. W. Blackwell.

The Americans were surprised to learn of the elaborate arrangements for their entertainment and also of the plans made to facilitate their work.

The privates will be guests of the British army in the barracks in the military tower of London.

Meet Many Officers

Everything from automobiles to a money exchange office was ready for the convenience of the Americans and soon the officers and men were scattered over the city on business and in sightseeing. At their hotel the American officers met many British and Canadian officers. Everywhere the American and British officers scrutinized each other with professional interest. While the Americans are keenly interested in their new surroundings they are giving themselves to the business of war. There is no atmosphere of an excursion jaunt about the trip of the American contingent. It has been work of the hardest kind with them since they boarded the transatlantic steamer in civilian clothes after she had left an American port.

The officers came from various stations in the United States and the business of staff organization was begun only after they met on ship board. The days of the ship were given to staff work and studying the French language.

General Pershing said to The Associated Press that he and his fellow officers were anxious to get into harness at their base in France as quickly as possible.

URGE COMMISSION TO GRANT RATE INCREASE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Life insurance companies, banks and trust holding railroad securities today urged the interstate commerce commission to grant the plea of carrier for a fifteen per cent increase in freight rates. The declared that approximately half the people of the country are indirectly investors in railroads and therefore concerned in the stability of securities.

The hearing brought to a close the testimony of the carriers.

Robert F. Maddox an Atlanta banker told the commission that the carriers bond have shown a decrease in value for a period of several years. He said that unless assistance is given to the railroads public confidence in their securities will be so shaken as to cause a contraction in one of the most important basis of credit.

Dwight P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance company, urged for a stabilization of carriers securities.

Eastern carriers and shippers will present final arguments tomorrow.

CONFIRMS NOMINATION.

PREPARE TO BEGIN WORK ON CAMPS

Nearly A Score of Captains Are Ordered to Report to Col. Littetel, Chief of Cantonment Construction.

Washington, June 8.—Nearly a score of captains of the quarter-master corps were ordered today to report to Colonel Littetel, chief of cantonment construction, in preparation for beginning work on the sixteen soldier cities which are to be ready by September 1 to house 600,000 young men of the selective army. Award of contracts for buildings on the seven sites already selected probably will be announced tomorrow.

Chillicothe, Ohio and Petersburg, Va., were added today to the list of cantonment sites approved. These previously announced are Ayer, Mass., Wrightstown, N. J., Atlanta, Ga., American Lake, Wash., and Columbia, S. C.

Army orders today also called out a score of captains into the quarter-master reserve corps to be commanders of reserve wagon, motor truck companies and bakery companies for the cantonment. A board of officers, aided by two civilian members of the board of munitions council of National Defense, was directed to study plans for store houses for sub depots of the war department and to recommend conditions for the conduct of vast distribution system that must be created before the camps are populated.

A statement by the committee for public information says the war department anticipates criticism of the method to be employed in contracting for the cantonment sites. It lays stress on the enormous amount of work to be done in twelve weeks and says this could be accomplished only by complete abandonment of all methods of handling army work heretofore known.

KEET BABY MYSTERY FAR FROM SOLUTION

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 8.—No developments came tonight that brought nearer the time of return to his parents of fourteen months-old Lloyd Keet, son of J. H. Keet, wealthy Springfield banker. Of the seven persons under arrest in connection with alleged plots to kidnap C. A. Clement, Springfield jeweler; a Springfield body and a St. Louis munition manufacturer, those questioned today stubbornly declared their innocence of any connection with the Keet kidnapping. On all sides it was admitted that the mystery still was as far from solution as at any time since the child was missed May 30.

AMERICAN AVIATORS ARRIVE IN FRANCE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—One hundred American aviators from the navy flying corps have arrived safely in France for any duty they may represent itself, according to a statement issued today by Secretary Daniels. The arde the first of the American forces to reach France.

The statement adds that Lieutenant Kenneth Whiting commands the corps which was sent "for duty in anti submarine operation, or for any other active duty that may be given them in France." The force includes four highly trained navy aviators and a high percentage of the remaining men are also experienced. The others will complete their training in France.

FAVORITE LODGE CONFERRED DEGREES

Work Put On Friday Night in Presence of Field Deputy from Decatur

Favorite Lodge No. 376 Knights of Pythias held a special meeting Friday night and conferred the first and third ranks. Dr. George N. Mason took the first rank and Charles H. Wintz the third rank.

The degrees were conferred and the lodge opened and closed in a contest which is being held through the state to select a lodge to exemplify the work at the Grand Lodge session in October.

The work was judged by Al Douglass, of Decatur, field deputy of the order. The members of the team did the work in first class shape and Mr. Douglass praised the work highly. He paid George Gerlach the compliment of being the best prelate he had ever heard.

Mr. Douglass emphasized the fact that even if a lodge failed to be selected to appear before the grand lodge that the effort was well worth while as it brought a higher degree of efficiency in degree work and stimulated interest in the lodge. B. R. Vogel of Decatur, connected with insurance department of the order was also present.

MONROE PREPAREDNESS
TOUR IS RECALLED

One Hundred Years Ago President and Party Spent Three Months Inspecting Military Posts and Defenses

New York, June 8.—One hundred years ago today New York was aglow with flags and bunting in anticipation of the arrival in the city of President James Monroe and a large party of notables, who were making a three-months "preparedness" tour for inspection of the military posts and other defenses of the country. Leaving Washington the first of June the party visited Baltimore and Philadelphia and arrived in New York on June 9, crossing over from Staten Island in elaborately decorated barges. During the several days' stay in the metropolis President Monroe inspected the new fortifications at the Narrows, the batteries at the lower end of Manhattan and the military works that had remained on Brooklyn heights after the Revolution. Each evening of the visit was marked by banquets and other social functions.

An inspection of West Point followed the visit to New York and then the party began a tour of New England, with stops at New Haven, Hartford, Springfield, Boston and Portland, in each of which cities an inspection was made of the militia companies, the armories and gun factories. Crossing New Hampshire and Vermont to Ogdensburg, the party traveled by boat to Sackett's Harbor and Niagara and thence on to Buffalo and Detroit.

Throughout the tour President Monroe wore the three-cornered hat, scarlet-bordered blue coat and buff breeches of the Revolutionary period. Everywhere the people greeted him with unbounded enthusiasm. The newspapers called the times the "Era of Good Feeling" and the expression has passed into history as a characteristic of the Monroe administration.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE
CONCLUDES WORK

Attendance Has Been Largest Recorded—Resolutions Express Appreciation.

The Morgan County teachers' institute which closed Friday was one of the most successful ever held. The program as arranged by Supt. Vasconcellos was one which greatly pleased the teachers. Friday morning Dr. Harrop made an address on "Adaptation" and the closing theme for Dr. Wham was "American Ideals."

Special features of the program for the week have been in charge of Miss Laura Hammond and have added largely to the interest of the week. At the morning session the teachers joined in the singing of several numbers. In the afternoon Miss Marceline Armstrong gave two readings which were ably done and greatly appreciated. They were "A Waterlogged Town," by F. Hopkinson Smith, and cuttings from Booth Tarkington's "Monsieur Beaucaire." Before adjournment the following resolutions were adopted, which had been prepared by a committee including Misses Mary L. Maher, Marian Kenyon and Helen Cafky, appointed by Supt. Vasconcellos:

Whereas, The Morgan County institute of 1917 is drawing to a most successful close, therefore, be it resolved:

First—That we, the teachers of Morgan county, desire to thank our county superintendent, Mr. Vasconcellos, for providing us with an appropriate place and time to hold our meetings and for securing able instructors to guide us in modern methods of education.

Second—That we thank the board of education for the use of their high school building.

Third—That the thanks of the Morgan county teachers be extended to Misses Laura Hammond and Edna Wardhaugh for the music furnished.

Fourth—That we wish to acknowledge our appreciation of the music numbers given by Miss Margaret Butler, Miss Ruth Duncan, Miss Ellen McCurley, Miss Hazel Belle Long, Miss Anna Long, Mrs. Frances Humphrey and Dean Cochran and the reading by Miss Marceline Armstrong.

Fifth—We further wish to thank Dr. A. H. Harrop for the happy and ready manner with which he presented his lectures and the vivid manner with which he drove home pedagogical truths.

Sixth—We also wish to thank Dr. George D. Wham for his scholarly presentation of literature, showing the truth and beauty portrayed by various writers of poetry and prose, and giving its educational value.

Seventh—We wish to thank all who contributed flowers.

Mary L. Maher, Marion Kenyon, Helen F. Cafky.

Another committee, including Misses Ethel Zenor, Laura Hammond and Margaret Duffner, presented a brief resolution concerning the death of Miss Lulu Casteen.

The Morgan County Teachers' in their regular Annual Institute assembled wish to express our appreciation of the long, faithful service of our co-worker, Miss Lulu Casteen, and the deep sense of our loss occasioned by her death. And we hereby tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved mother and family.

Ethel Zenor, Laura Hammond, Margaret Duffner, Committee.

MATT STAR POST,
G. A. R., IN SESSION

Thanks Expressed to All Who Had Part in Decoration Day—Will Attend Patriots' Service at State Street Church

At a meeting last evening of Matt Starr post G. A. R., a vote of thanks was passed and tendered all who in any way assisted in making the late decoration day a success. It was deemed impracticable to mention names as so many were interested. The post decoration day committee also wish to express their great appreciation of the kindly manner in which every one approached responded.

The following invitation was read and accepted by the post and the Relief corps, the latter in the afternoon:

Jacksonville, Ill., June 9, 1917. Matt Starr Post and Women's Relief Corps, Jacksonville, Ill.,

My Dear Sirs and Ladies:

On Sunday, July 1st, it is my intention to preach on this theme: "America's Contribution to World Democracy."

And owing to the critical situation of our own country at this time and of the world, I feel like it is our duty to do all we can to help intensify the spirit of patriotism; so I am taking the privilege of inviting you to attend this service in a body on that day.

If this invitation is accepted seats will be reserved for you.

I hesitate to ask you to leave your churches on that day to unite with us but feel that under the circumstances it will be overlooked.

The invitation I extend to you I assure you is very cordial, and if you come we will do all we can to make the service helpful.

Yours truly,
R. B. Wilson,
Pastor State Street Church.

Bake Without the "Ake"

No More Uncomfortable Stooping

This is possible if you use a Leonard Hi-Oven Range. The elevated oven will save you many a backache and you have the satisfaction of having a perfectly heated and easily controlled oven. The glass oven door is a wonderful advantage, too.

Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges

(Burn Coal or Wood—May Be Equipped for Gas)

Are Built as All Ranges Ought to be Built

The natural course of heat is upward instead of downward. This is why the oven in a Leonard Hi-Oven Range heats so much easier and more perfectly than the oven in an old style low oven range. The heat is evenly distributed on both sides of the oven so that the baking never needs turning. No more burning on one side and half baked on the other.

Then, too, the oven is so constructed that a current of superheated fresh air passes thru it at all times. This makes the baking light with a crisp brown crust. The meaning of real baking pleasure is not realized until you buy a Leonard Hi-Oven Range.

Why These Ranges Are Durable

The body flue of every Leonard Hi-Oven Range is lined throughout with heavy cast iron linings. This protects the body from the destructive gases. Then, too, the sheet material is of Rust Resisting Copper Bearing Sheet Iron. Not a particle of ordinary steel is used.

A Leonard Hi-Oven will save work for you
It is made to last and save fuel, too.

CLARENCE RICHARDS IS SEVERELY STABBED

Attack Made By Sam Farrero Who Is a Fugitive From Justice—Cutting Came as Result of Quarrel.

As the result of a cutting affray which occurred Thursday night about 10:30 Clarence Richards, is at Cur Saviors hospital in a dangerous condition from several knife wounds and Sam Farrero, a fugitive from justice, charged with assault with intent to kill.

Richards is 19 years of age and is the son of M. M. Richards of 362 North West street, Farrero, the man who is alleged to have cut him, is a prisoner at J. Capps & Sons clothing factory. The police did not receive word of the trouble until after midnight Thursday and immediately began a search for Farrero. All trains have been watched and search has been made in other places. It is the opinion that he is hiding somewhere in the city.

The police were unable to get much information about the affair. The trouble occurred at the intersection of Walnut and North East streets. According to a story told by a boy named Mitchell who was with Richards when the trouble occurred he was in company with Richards when they met Farrero and another forger at the above named place.

Richards remonstrated with Farrero for telling stories about him. The conversation led to the trouble and Farrero drew a knife or some sharp instrument and slashed Richards several times about the body. There are some eight wounds, one of them being in the abdomen.

Chances for Recovery Good. After being cut Richards walked to the Pacific hotel. There Dr. Norris took charge of him and took him to Our Saviors hospital where he dressed his wounds. The family of the young man was then communicated with and immediately notified that while Richards was in a bad condition that he probably would recover unless infection set in.

M. H. Richards father of the boy went before Justice Dyer Friday afternoon and swore out a warrant for Farrero charging him with assault with intent to kill.

Summer is here and Knoles is ready for you with clothing.

FRACURED WRIST

Fred Goodrick is carrying his arm in a sling as a result of a broken bone in the wrist. This accident happened when Mr. Goodrick attempted to crank M. E. Gilbert's car Thursday night. Mr. Gilbert had been having some trouble in getting the car started and Mr. Goodrick offered to help with the result as stated. It was not until Friday that an X-ray picture was taken and the exact extent of the injury found.

RETURNS FROM TRIP TO OLD TEXAS HOME

Rev. W. E. Spoonst Visited Scenes of Childhood—Degree of Doctor of Divinity Conferred by Alma Mater

Rev. W. E. Spoonst has returned from a trip to Texas and reports a highly enjoyable time while away. Tuesday, the 22nd, he arrived in Dallas and for three days enjoyed the meetings of his Presbyterian general assembly and at the same time met many ministers whom he knew as nearly all the Presbyterian ministers of the state were present either as delegates or visitors. At Dallas he was the guest of his uncle, his mother's brother, W. L. Diamond, a real estate dealer and pioneer in that part of the country. Mr. Spoonst was received with great hospitality and received all possible attention. Among the preachers in the assembly were a number whom Mr. Spoonst had aided in their early careers and they were most happy to greet him.

From Dallas he went to the extreme western part of the state to Chadovne, the residence of his youngest brother, O. D. Spoonst, with whom his parents live. It is a comparatively new place on the Orient railroad extending from Kansas City to the Gulf. The climate and land are good there but the country is subject to dry weather and when Mr. Spoonst was there practically everything was destroyed and hardly a green spear to be seen. He spent three days there, preaching Sunday morning in the Methodist church and in the evening in the Presbyterian church. His father is 81 and his mother 77 yet they are both hale and hearty and fair to live many years to come. His mother insisted on walking to the station a half mile distant with him and didn't mind it.

Cotton is Staple Crop. While there they had a genuine, old time goat dinner and it was indeed enjoyable. Cotton is their staple crop though they raise kafir corn and all kinds of vegetables when they have rain. A little fell just before his arrival and they were beginning to make garden. In that vicinity the reverend gentleman herded cattle when he was a young man and many things brought old times and former days to his mind. Returning to Dallas he was met at the station by his uncle and aunt and escorted to Fern Lake, 125 miles distant, where is a kind of club grounds of 2,000 acres half of which is an artificial lake fine for boating and fishing. They went fishing and landed a very fine string of bass and perch, said to excel anything that had been taken from the lake. There is a large hotel for the benefit of the members and their guests and they enjoyed three days there greatly. From Fern Lake he went to Pittsburg, Texas, the east part of the state where are buried Mr. Spoonst's maternal grandparents and it was there his uncle was raised and he has many friends and relatives in the place. He remained over Sunday and preached in the Methodist church in the morning. He was entertained by a cousin, L. B. Hess, who enjoyed a 17th wedding anniversary while Mr. Spoonst was present. Mr. Hess gave his wife a car and Mr. Spoonst took the first ride in it going to the train.

Visits Alma Mater. Monday he took the train for Waxahatchie, to deliver the commencement address at his Alma Mater, Trinity University, where there was a class of 24 graduates. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him and a Rev. Mr. Todd and the degree of L. L. D. on another man, president of the state normal university. Pres. Hornbeak was a teacher when Mr. Spoonst was a student at the university in the preparatory department.

From that place he hastened home to be at his work here. Conditions he found generally active and progressive in most of the cities which are paved largely with creosote block, have electric lights and signs of progress generally but in large parts of the country he found them using the old time shovels and plows with a skinny mule and often women following it much the same as forty years ago. The fruit crop he found good and potatoes were making some men good returns. He saw many car loads being shipped and costing the dealers $2.35 a bushel. Peaches are just coming into market also.

Try to Impeach Governor. They have had lots of trouble with Governor Ferguson whom they tried to impeach. They had a good case but it was whitewashed in the legislature and to get revenge he refused to sign the appropriation bill for the state seats of learning and unless private funds are supplied the state university, the medical university and some others will be closed for two years. His only excuse was the fact that the president of the state university is a minister.

At his old home and vicinity envious of the German government, doubtless, had tried to stir up trouble and opposition to conscription in an order known as the Farmers' and Laborers' Lodges. Some had been imprisoned but it was the hope that it wouldn't amount to much.

Mr. Spoonst is much pleased with his trip and is looking very well.

SEMI-ANNUAL TAX PAYMENTS PROPOSED

Bill Passed By House and Senate Provides for Tax Collection in February and September.

Mention was made recently of a bill which passes the state legislature making certain changes in the Illinois tax law. This bill is known as No. 753 and was introduced in the house by Representative Boyd. It has passed both the house and senate and now awaits the signature of Governor Lowden. By the terms of this bill all personal property taxes are due and payable in February of each year. The same month one half the real estate taxes are due and the other half are due during the month of September. If the taxes due and payable in February are delinquent on March 10 interest at the rate of one per cent per month is added, dating from the first of April until paid. On the second half of the taxes, due and payable in September, if delinquent Oct. 10, interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month is charged dating from the first of November. Judgment for unpaid taxes will be taken at the December term of the county court and sale held shortly afterward.

Another bill known as No. 754, abolishing township collectors in all counties under twenty in population. In such counties under the present law the township collector is allowed a commission of two per cent on all taxes he collects up until a certain date in March. After that date the books are turned over to the county treasurer and all taxes are paid direct to that official. Under the proposed law in counties under township organization all taxes are to be paid directly to the treasurer.

There has been little or nothing said about either of the bills in the press, and no one seems to know exactly the arguments made in favor of changing the law, so that taxes are paid twice a year instead of once. About the only argument that has been heard in favor of semi-annual payments is that for small property owners it might be easier to pay the taxes in two installments instead of paying the larger sum at one time. In the case of cities and school boards it might in occasional instances lessen the necessity of borrowing. There are various views as to the effect the law would have with reference to tax extension, but the general opinion is that it would be possible to extend the taxes but once a year and to divide them in such a way that the records would show the amount due in February and the amount due in September. In some states where semi-annual tax payments are made, an incentive is offered to the property owner to pay the second half of his taxes in advance by providing for a discount if all the taxes are paid at the time the first installment falls due.

NEW RECORDS FOR AUTO EARNINGS

Gross earnings of the Chicago & Alton, for April, aggregated $1,607,200, the largest for the fourth month reported in the history of the road. In peace times, the earnings for October, usually the heaviest month, never reached that figure. The increase over the same month one year ago was $247,852. Since the first of January the road earned $6,182,355, an increase for the first four months of the fiscal year of $883,001. The gain for April was larger than for the three preceding months. The heavy earnings would be a greater source of satisfaction to the management if operating expenses could be reduced. Despite every effort to economize, the cost of operating the property is far ahead of all former years, while the cost of supplies is mounting at an appalling rate. Locomotives that could be bought two years ago for $22,000 are now quoted at $47,000 with delivery doubtful. Box cars that could be bought for $800 each two years ago, now cost $1,300. Everything that the railroad buys now costs from 30 to 100 per cent more than it did two years ago and the end is not yet. As long as gross earnings run so heavy there is a chance that the road can get by, but whenever there is a slump, the situation will become serious, unless there is an advance in freight and passenger rates to make up for the loss.

A LITER CYCLOPE ITEM

Some reference in the Journal to freaks of the recent cyclonic storms in this state, remind the writer of one in connection with the Litter tornado about thirty four years ago.

The writer went up there to see the effects of the wind and in wandering about the town met a man with this story.

A few days after the cyclone a party in Litter received a letter from some one living in the country beyond Petersburg asking if he had lost a note of hand.

A vest had been found in the Petersburg locality in which was a note of some considerable value, apparently blown up there from Litter. The place in which the note was found probably giving the clue to where it belonged.

CASS COUNTY TEACHERS HELD INSTITUTE

Unfavorable Weather Conditions Interfere to Some Extent with Attendance—Miss Drinkwater Hostess to Tuesday Afternoon Company Other Virginia News Items.

Virginia, June 8.—Mr. Jacob S. Perry of Clayton, Ill., and Miss Kennetha Nolsch, a prominent young school teacher of Virginia, were united in marriage June 4th, at the Christian parsonage, Rev. C. E. French officiating. They left immediately for the groom's farm near Clayton where they will reside.

The annual Cass County Teachers' Institute is in session this week. Superintendent W. E. Buck, assisted by Prof. O. L. Warren of Elmira, N. Y., and Prof. G. P. Randle of Danville, Ill., able instructors, are giving daily appropriate lectures. It is to be regretted that owing to the inclement weather and road conditions that the percentage of attendance is low. However, trains are now running on schedule time and a record attendance of the closing days is expected.

Miss Catherine Drinkwater was hostess to a party of her young lady friends at her suburban home east of town Tuesday afternoon complimentary to Miss Ruth Coener who left the following day for her home in Welch, Ia. The heavy rains of Monday night rendered the roads unfit for auto travel and Miss Catherine with her usual ability to cope with all inconveniences, hitched a trusty team of horses to a farm wagon equipped with side boards and drove to town where she met the jolly crowd of girls to be her guests and with standing room in the wagon at a premium, the party drove to the Drinkwater home where an enjoyable evening was spent. The party was conveyed to their homes in the same conveyance later in the evening. An amusing incident on the journey back to town was the discovery of four pairs of shoes in a secret hiding place, the property of four young society men of this city who had decided to take a hike to the country that afternoon and finding the mud so deep decided to try the trip the rest of the way barefooted. The girls who were all of a genial and accommodating disposition, loaded the shoes into their substantial conveyance and brought them to town and placed them in a store window where upon proving their property the young men received their belongings, after a few hours walk in the country and thru the principal streets of the city to their respective homes.

John McLenore is very low at his home in this city. His physicians and friends have abandoned all hope of his recovery.

Miss Mary Magill who has been very ill at her home suffered a relapse and is very low. Near relatives have been called to her bedside from San Jose, Ill.

Alvin Cooper who has enlisted with the U. S. army is very ill at a hospital. He has had the measles and later pneumonia. He will be returned to his home in this city as soon as his condition will permit. Alvin is a brother of the late James Cooper, also of the U. S. army, who was drowned at Louisiana, Mo., May 17, 1917.

PLAN TO CELEBRATE FOURTH OF JULY

Meeting Was Held Friday Morning to Discuss This Subject—Races at Driving Park and Program in Central Park Proposed

Yesterday morning there was a meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms to consider the matter of celebrating the Fourth of July in a proper manner. There were present W. S. Ehlers, J. W. Merrigan, J. W. Woods, J. W. Clary, C. J. Lukeman, Martin Cosgriff, C. R. Knollenberg, E. H. Gray, H. A. Obermeyer, Basil Geneates and representatives of the Douglas hotel cafe, Mullenix & Hamilton, Princess Candy Co. and the Journal reporter. H. A. Obermeyer was elected chairman of the meeting and Martin Cosgriff secretary.

There was a general discussion regarding the celebration of the day and two ideas prevailed; celebration mainly down town and at the grounds of the driving club. Messrs. Woods and Clary said the club was about $375 in debt and as it was a home enterprise it deserved assistance and encouragement. Instead of being relegated to the shades the horse is just coming into his own and will be in greater demand than ever and it is to the interest of all to cultivate all that pertains to a good animal. It is the hope of the driving club to have a fine series of races at the club grounds on the fourth and to conduct them in such a way that they will attract and pay well for attending.

Hope to Sell 1000 Tickets. They hope to sell a thousand tickets for a dollar good for two admissions and all they ask is to get out of debt and if they have any surplus the will turn it over to the fourth committee. There was a very general sentiment that all the celebration should be down town and that would not interfere with the driving club program. It will be the plan of the club to begin soon after noon and get thru early. Festivities can begin about the square about two or half an hour later and continue the evening and at night have fireworks on the square and near by.

This was the general sentiment of the gathering and an executive committee was appointed to solicit funds for the enterprise and at the same time clothed with power to act to enhance any of the above suggested program. It was declared to be the sense of the meeting that all should be at the driving club grounds and on the square and it was estimated that it would require at least $800 for expenses.

The following were appointed the committee to raise funds and make all arrangements. Messrs. H. A. Obermeyer, E. H. Gray, Henry Frisch, Jay Rodgers, Clarence Lukeman, J. W. Woods and C. R. Knollenberg. They are to begin work at once as the time is getting short.

W. J. Hill came up to the city yesterday in his Ford car.

M'GRAW AND BYRON
ENGAGE IN FIGHT

CINCINNATI, O., June 8.—After the New York-Cincinnati game today Manager McGraw of the New Yorks and Umpire Byron were the participants in a fight. In a signed statement McGraw said:
"I met Byron near the umpire's dressing room after the game. I had been ordered from the field during the game. Byron said to me: 'McGraw, you were run out of Baltimore.' I answered, 'do you say that I was run out of Baltimore?'"
"He answered, 'That's what they say about you.'"
"I answered, 'Well, don't you say that about me.'"
"He answered, 'Well, you were run out of Baltimore.'"
"Then I hit him. I maintain that I was given reason."

During an effort of the ground-keeper to separate the two, Rariden, the New York catcher, not knowing the groundkeeper, came to what he supposed was McGraw's assistance and hit the groundkeeper. A general scramble followed but no one was seriously hurt.

The Red Sox have been going along at a merry clip, notwithstanding the absence from the lineup of Manager Barry and Tilly Walker. Janvrin and Walsh, subbing respectively for Barry and Walker, have been doing good work for the champions.

KILBANE TO MEET LEONARD.
Cleveland, O., June 8.—Johnny today signed a contract to box Benny Leonard, champion light weight 12 rounds at Canton, O., July 4. The men will weigh 133 pounds ringside.
Kilbane is to get $12,000 or the privilege of thirty percent of receipts.

HONOR FRENCH OFFICER.
Paris, June 8.—General Henri Berthelot, chief of the French military mission to Roumania, has been raised to the dignity of grand officer of the Legion of Honor. The honor is in recognition of his services in reorganizing the Roumanian army.

About four weeks in the role of baseball pilot seems to have been sufficient for Mike Donlin and Matty McIntyre, two former well known big leaguers, who have resigned. Donlin was manager of the Memphis team and McIntyre piloted at Mobile.

Former major leaguers appear to be hogging the American association batting honors. Viox and Becker of Kansas City, Dolan of Indianapolis, Demmitt of Columbus and Bresnahan of Toledo are jammed in at the top of the A. A. batting list.

INTERESTING NEWS
OF THE SPORT WORLD

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, June—Now that the National Baseball Commission has legislated against the "bean ball" and proposes to punish the pitcher convicted of using it, Fred Mitchell, manager of the Chicago Nationals, wants to know who is to distinguish between the "bean ball" and a wild pitch.

"That is going to cause more trouble to umpires than they ever had before," Mitchell said. "They cannot distinguish when a pitcher deliberately throws a ball at a batter's head or lets go a wild pitch."

"I say that because I do not think that a pitcher ever deliberately attempted to throw a ball at a batsman's head with any idea of hitting him. I have never seen it done as long as I have been associated with the game."

"It is true that I have seen pitchers throw wild pitches, but I am not aware of driving him away from the plate. That is legitimate and I do not think it does the game any harm. The pitcher does not do that with the intention of 'beating' the batter, but merely to scare him away."

St. Louis, June—Altho hit twenty-three times last season, Jack Barry, manager of the Boston Americans, does not believe in the existence of the "bean ball." He asserts he never has witnessed a deliberate attempt by any pitcher to hit a batsman in the head.

"The 'bean ball' is something I know nothing about," Barry said in discussing the National Baseball Commission's ruling threatening the expulsion of a pitcher found guilty of using the delivery.

"I was hit by pitched balls twenty-three times last season, but I am confident none of the pitchers tried to hit me. When ball players complain about the 'bean ball' it always sounds like an alibi to me."

Barry's record of being hit twenty-three times last season by one never equaled in the modern major leagues.

How to eradicate the "bean ball" is a question puzzling players, managers and umpires alike. Barry laughs at the idea of anybody deciding the question.

"Suppose that a pitcher is wild, what then?" Barry asks.
"That's what every fan is asking—'What then?'"

Louisville, Ky., June—General Manager M. J. Winn of the New Louisville Jockey Club, has written United States Senator Olie M. James that the club, anxious to do its bit in the war, has decided to add to the food production of the country.

The beautiful centerfield of Churchill Downs, with its forty acres of virgin soil, upon which for nearly fifty years has grazed many of the famous horses of Kentucky, will be plowed and planted in potatoes, under the supervision of an expert.

It is expected the crop will be ready for gathering while the Autumn meeting is in progress. It will be placed at the disposal of the Government without profit to the Jockey Club.

Chicago, June—Patriotic demonstrations will be staged in all major league parks on June 5, the day set aside for registration under the new universal military service law.

This is the special order of the National Baseball Commission, which recommended that all clubs engage bands on that day to play stirring airs at intervals during the games.

Chicago, June—Ben Reuben of Chicago, champion of the American middleweight wrestling championship, believes in doing "his bit." He has joined the Illinois Naval Reserves, and hopes to see service in European waters.

South Bend, Ind.—Now it's the "bean ball" that is causing worry to batters in the Central League. Pitcher Cummins of the Port Wayne club is accused of using the delivery. Players allege that Cummins carries a pocket full of crushed grains of wheat and chewing it produces a substance which he blows at the batsman.

Indianapolis, June—Members of the Indianapolis team of the American Association are taking up drilling under the instruction of Sgt. Franklin C. Craig, of the Fourth Indiana Infantry. Craig says the players are becoming quite proficient.

Minneapolis, June—The twin city driving club selected June 29 and 30 as dates for its annual race meeting at the State Fair grounds. Directors cut the number of events from eight to six. It is believed this action will increase the number of entries in each event and this improve the racing. The meeting will be sanctioned by the American Trotting Association.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Bad weather has hit the Braves hard this season. Fifteen games had been postponed by the Stallings outfit up to May 30.

Frank Chance has been having a dickens of a time trying to make his Los Angeles team live up to its reputation as champions.

Tex Covington, who used to pastime with the Browns, is wallowing his way to fame with a .400 batting mark in the Southern league.

Except when the old speeder, W. J. is right, the Washington team puts in the time going out and coming back at the end of each inning.

Fred Mitchell's success with the Cubs has the experts guessing. The question is: Who really owned all of that miracle stuff?

Just one ray of hope is left for the Pirates. If Pittsburgh millionaires would buy Honus Wagner's coal mine, the old Wonder might be induced to jump into the Pirate yard and save the Callahan team.

Maybe McGraw didn't let a good one get away when he shipped Roush to Cincinnati. The former giant is certainly burning up the league in hitting.

From Atlanta to the Cubs, then to Cincinnati Reds, and from Cincinnati to Boston, is the route traveled by Pitcher Scott Perry this season before he landed a job as heavier for the Braves.

Few of the big yard veterans are displaying finer goods than is Eddie Cicotte. The White Sox pitcher is certainly there with the shoots and hooks this year.

Evidently the Phils, the Cubs and the Cards failed to read last winter's dope, which made a presentation of this season's National league pennant to the Giants.

International Corn Planters
Have a Habit of Pleasing

IF your neighbor owns an International corn planter, you don't have to be told that he is satisfied. You know it, and we know it. The International corn planter satisfies because it is simple and because it plants corn the way you want it planted. A strong feature is the adjustable runner frame, keeping the runners even and the hoppers level, no matter what the height or speed of your team. This means accurate dropping and even checking instead of zig zag. It is a very convenient planter under all conditions.

The International is the corn planter that deserves to be looked over by every farmer who wants to get the most out of his cornfields. It wastes neither seed nor ground, it handles easily, and it lasts as long as any farmer could ask.

Come in the first time it is convenient and study an International planter. Made in five styles—own the style that suits you.

CONSERVING VITAL RESOURCES IS PROBLEM

The Greatest Fire Prevention Campaign the World Has Ever Seen—
The War-Time Necessity of Conserving Grain and Other Staples.

Since the first publication of the statement that the National Board of Fire Underwriters had undertaken an intensive work of wartime conservation in the service of the federal government, there have been many inquiries from those desiring particulars. While some of the work is of a somewhat confidential nature, it is believed that a brief outline of certain phases may now with propriety be given.

Every day furnishes increased evidence that the world is racing with starvation.
It is a crime against humanity to allow the usual percentage of fires in grain elevators and other places of storage to be continued. The National Board, therefore, has been working out extensive plans for providing fire protection, as distinguished from mere fire indemnity, for all elevators, flour mills, potato and onion warehouses, and other food repositories in the United States.

SUB-COMMITTEES APPOINTED.
To this end, President Russell has appointed local sub-committees in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston,
San Francisco, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Atlanta, New Orleans and Dallas. These committees have already entered into active cooperation with the governors, state councils of defense, committees of safety, fire marshals and the financial and commercial interests of their localities. Particularly with committees of grain dealer-ers' associations, representative owners, etc.

Their activities are of a far reaching nature, involving inspections, the correction of structural faults, and the promotion of careful methods, including cleanliness.

The vast annual loss of food staples through fire has long been recognized as very largely preventable, but there never before has been such an opportunity for bringing about a widespread campaign of conservation. The successful fruits of this campaign should preserve the living for unnumbered thousands whose food requirements would be destroyed were the fire loss to remain as usual.

COTTON CROP IMPORTANT.
But little less important is the conservation of the cotton crop—that great staple whose employment in the manufacture of explosives, as well as in fabrics, makes it an indispensable wartime necessary. The United States is the source of a large part of the world's supply and it is vitally important that this supply should not be diminished through fire.

The burden of this responsibility falls especially upon the committees in Dallas,
New Orleans and Atlanta, although shared to some degree by those in other cities.
In this work, as well, the closest cooperation is being maintained with all local authorities and interested organizations.

The protection of coal properties, including breakers, tipplers, etc.; of fertilizer works; of saw mills and of piers and wharves, are important divisions of the work undertaken. With the growing probability that every ounce of the nation's strength may be required, it would be intolerable to continue the drain of preventable fires in these vital resources. Each one of them, therefore, is being made the subject of the closest study and most active effort in a great fire prevention campaign, the like of which the world has never known.

This campaign is enlisted the service of approximately four thousand trained fire prevention engineers, inspectors, surveyors, and appraisers located in every part of the country, as well as of numerous supplementary insurance organizations, and an army of officials, leagues, committees and associations, all coordinated into a single movement, working earnestly for the nation's safety.

It is of the utmost importance that every individual in the nation should consider himself as a committee of one to cooperate in the removal of all uncertain fire hazards that may come within his knowledge. The urgency of this need is paramount.

AMERICAN LEATHER CHEMISTS.
Atlantic City, N. J., June 7.—In many respects the annual convention of the American Leather Chemists now in session here promises to be the most interesting and instructive the association has held. The vexed anthrax question will be threshed out and the disinfection situation will be discussed. Members from many sections of the country were in attendance this morning when the sessions were opened with an address by President Charles R. Oberfell.

COTTON MEN AT ASHEVILLE.
Asheville, N. C., June 7.—The effects of the war on the cotton manufacturing industry in the south are to be considered at the annual convention begun here today by the North Carolina and South Carolina
Cotton Manufacturers' Association.
The convention will continue in session several days.

SOY BEANS MAKE NOURISHING FOOD

Government Report Presents Interesting Facts About This Crop

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Soy beans, introduced into the United States more than a hundred years ago primarily for use as a forage crop, are in reality one of the most nutritious of the legumes when used as human food, according to specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These beans have been used for centuries as a staple article of diet in China and Japan and are coming to be used more generally in this country as consumers learn their food value and palatability. Since they furnish protein which contains nitrogen for muscle building, and valuable fat, they are especially important to turn to as an emergency addition to the usual dietary or as substitutes for other foods, furnishing protein and fat.
Moreover, the fact that they contain no starch makes them valuable for invalids who can not eat starchy foods. These beans may be grown easily in practically all sections of the country where corn is grown and give heavier yields than most other beans.

Soy beans have been so important for other purposes that until recently they have attracted little attention for food purposes in this country. They are now coming into their own for that purpose, however, and the acreage of soy beans has increased steadily in recent years. The dried beans may be purchased now in a number of markets in various parts of the country, often under the name of togo beans, and should, with the increased acreage of the coming season, be more generally available. Soy bean meal, a by-product of oil making, is a valuable food and no doubt will come into more general use with the increased production of soy beans.

Where dried soy beans are available they may be baked with or without pork like navy beans and other beans. They should be soaked overnight and should be cooked longer than other kinds of beans.
The cooking may be done economically in a fireless cooker of the sort provided with heating stones or plates; or on the ledge of the fire box inside the furnace if the house happens to be heated with one of this type.

Dried soy beans have been canned in considerable quantities during the past season, baked with pork, and are on sale in this form in numerous markets. Canned green soy beans, which may be compared with lima beans, also are on the market in some sections of the country.
Both these canned products yield a high proportion of energy and a higher proportion of protein than the canned beans with which they are most easily comparable, and so are more nourishing. Both are produced and handled usually at a lower cost than other beans and should, therefore, be obtainable at lower prices.

WOMEN IN THE DAY'S NEWS

The exceptional showing made by "Celine," a town with a population of less than 1,000 in northern Minnesota, which has sent 100 men to the navy, has been due in great part to the efforts of Mrs. M. B.
Semmelroth, a special United States Navy recruiting agent, who fired the residents with her patriotic speeches.

One of the "few women in America"—Mrs. Dody has heard of no other and thinks she is the only one —following the occupation of "steep-plejack" is Mrs. Lucy Doody of Jersey City, who has painted some of the tallest steeples and chimneys of that town. Mrs. Doody took to the trade because it was her husband's and their jobs are generally family affairs.

The war is having a decided effect upon feminine styles, as many an observer noted at the functions given during the recent visit of the French and British commissions. A great many women appeared in military capes to do honor to Joffre, Marshal of France. The cape most in favor is in dark colors lined with satin of a brilliant hue, and hanging from the shoulders over a coat or, in modiste parlance, a cape coat.
The effect is elegant as well as picturesque. Another war note struck by smart women is the after absence of jewelry, to conform with the enforced simplicity and retrenchment of war times among their sisters across the seas.

Dr. Augusta F. Bronner, of the Chicago Juvenile Psychopathic Institute, has made a national reputation on the subject of child delinquency and crime, and was recently called to Boston to conduct a clinic on the moral health of wayward children in that city, as an adjunct to Boston's Juvenile Court. Directing the work with Miss Bronner is Dr. William Healy, head of the Chicago Juvenile Psychopathic Institution, with whose collaboration her remarkable work has been pursued.
The pith of argument in a volume Dr. Bronner recently published on child psychology, with the title of "Psychology of Special Abilities and Disabilities," is that the exceptional child, either in school or in court, must be treated as an exceptional case.

Mrs. R. H. Hall, a widow, of Quincy, Mass., has six sons under the colors. The youngest, Neil M.
Hall, recently enlisted, tho not yet having quite attained the enlistment age of 18 years. When apprised by the recruiting officers that he would have to have his mother's consent because of his being under age, young Hall promptly replied, "Why,
she sent me here."

MR. AUTO OWNER!

Why throw your old auto tires away when they are good for 2500 to 6500 more miles.

My method of taking two old tires and making one good one is saving thousands of auto owners from 50 to 75 per cent on their bills.

Send me two old tires and I will make one good tire that you can get from 2500 to 6500 more miles out of. In sending me tires be sure one has a good rim no matter how bad the tread is worn. For the other one that has a good tread no matter what condition rim is in.

If You Haven't a Tire with a Good Tread I Can Furnish You One
